IMPORTANT NOTICE

- Effective July 18, 2008, New York State requires all workers on public projects over $250,000 to have completed an OSHA 10 hour construction safety class. The New York State Department of Labor Bureau of Public Work has the authority to issue regulations to enforce this new law.
- The Joint Industry Board is actively sponsoring OSHA 10 hour training classes. We urge all contractors and Local Union No. 3 members to take advantage of this important training initiative. Please inform all employees and supervisors of this development.
- If you wish additional information about the OSHA 10 hour requirement or the Joint Industry Board's training program, please contact Robert McCormick, the Safety Director of the Electrical Employers Self Insurance Safety Plan, at 718-591-2000 x 1254.
